

part because of the pernicious risks threatening children's safety online.<sup>12</sup>

I am not a Luddite. I recognize that children's lives can be enriched through social media, gaming, and other online resources. But online activity comes with risks, especially when internet products have flawed or non-existent safeguards. The FTC's Section 5 authority does not reach, and cannot prevent, every danger facing teens and children on the internet today. Here, however, I am comfortable with this use of our unfairness authority, and I am supportive of the
